BEQUEST TO S. SPRAGUE TERRY.

Gets One-Quarter of J. W. Sprague's Estate

Besides Interesting Relics.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 26 .- The will of Joseph W. Sprague, who died recently in Italy, was offered for probate to-day. The estate, amounting to something over a quarter of a million, is ing to something over a quarter of a million, is left in trust to Seth Sprague Terry of New York, who receives one-fourth. The remainder goes to relatives in the East. Twenty vears after the death of the survivor of the legatees the estate is to be applied to the establishment of a "Sprague fund" for the benefit of the Smithsonian Institution.

Mr. Sprague was the owner of a valuable collection of bric-à-brac and curios, which he left to his nephew. Mr. Seth Sprague Terry, and the latter's wife. The second paragraph of the will, mentioning the most interesting relies, in part is as follows:

"To my nephew, Seth Sprague Terry, I bequeath the old 'Salem clock,' captured by a privateer during the American Revolution; the silver teapot and salver, made by Paul Revere and given as a wedding present to my grandmother; the lock of Napoleon's hair and the Washington Irving pin with their frames and mountings."
